DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification does not include a reference on page one to the parent application.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hearn et al. (US 5,597,476) in view of McDaniel et al. (US 2003/0136706).

The Hearn reference discloses a process for removing sulfur from naphtha by contacting the naphtha that contains diolefins in a distillation column reactor with a catalyst under conditions such that mercaptans are reacted with the diolefins to form sulfides. A heavy fraction is then subjected to hydrodesulfurization. See column 2, lines 30-62.

The Hearn reference does not disclose the separation of the naphtha into three fractions with the further hydrodesulfurization of the intermediate fraction.

The McDaniel reference discloses a process for removing sulfur from a hydrocarbon by first treating the hydrocarbon in a reaction zone to convert sulfur compounds followed by the separation of the treated hydrocarbon into three fractions with the treatment of the intermediate fraction in a hydrodesulfurization zone. See paragraphs 16, 17, 19, 23-40, 47-49, 52, 69, 70, and 77.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the process of Hearn by separating the product from the distillation column reactor into three fractions and further treating the intermediate fraction as suggested by McDaniel because octane of the treated stream will be retained.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686

Art Unit: 1764

F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 13 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,824,676. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both sets of claims are drawn to a process for removing sulfur from a naphtha stream. The patented claims differ from the claims of the present invention by including the feeding of a gas oil with the intermediate naphtha to the reactor containing HDS catalyst.
